Principal's Message

It is indeed a great pleasure for me to write a brief message for this, the first issue of the "Focus". To the yearbook staff I extend congratulations for a job well done. Since this is your first book, you are breaking new ground, and I feel certain you have set a fine example for those who follow you.

The task of compiling a yearbook is a difficult and challenging one. If it is to be a success, a great deal of interest, patience, co-operation, and a decided amount of ability are required. These qualities have been exemplified in all students who have participated in the completion of "Focus - 70".

The publishing of this first issue of "Focus" is certainly one of the highlights of the school year, and I am sure it will be cherished by many of you. To the graduates it will have special significance, for in future it will be a tangible reminder of your last year at school.

I wish you all the greatest possible success and happiness.

H Russell

Vice-Principal's Message

Because of my own personal connection as both student and teacher in the schools now covered by the Integrated High School, it is with a great deal of pleasure that I offer my congratulations to the yearbook staff and its advisors on the publication of our first yearbook.

"Focus - 70" shows what co-operation and teamwork can achieve. The publication of this first yearbook has not been an easy task, and its success is the result of each working with the other.

With its pictures and comments your yearbook will be one of your most treasured possessions. In the years to come may it bring back memories of your school days and serve as an inspiration as you face the more difficult tasks in life.

To all, much success in your future undertakings.

Lester Vey

Dedication

We, the graduating class of 1970, respectfully dedicate the first edition of "Focus" to Mrs. Stella Russell.

Mrs. Russell came from Red Harbour, Placentia Bay, received her early education at Chance Cove, Trinity Bay, and St. John's, and graduated from Memorial University in 1965 with her B.A.(Ed.). She was principal of this school from 1965 to 1969, whereby she performed her duties faithfully and well; and although hers may not be a tangible reward, it will be the reward of those who weary not in well-doing. Mrs. Russell contributed a great deal to the establishment of the Integrated School System in this area.

We therefore think it fitting that this yearbook be a dedication to her. The good wishes of the graduating class go with her in her future endeavours, and the blessing of God Almighty be upon her.

Editorial

Thelma Drodge

It is indeed a pleasure to present to you the "Focus", our first yearbook of this school.

As Editor-in-Chief, I would like to thank all those who have contributed to the success of this book. In particular: Mrs. Russell and Mr. Berkshire, our advisors, who gave us much indispensable advice; the yearbook staff, who were responsible for putting this book together; and the various business firms whose assistance through advertising has made this edition possible.

We hope that "Focus - 70" will give you a glimpse of the atmosphere of our school life.

In closing, I would like to wish the graduating class the best of luck in exams and in your futures, wherever life may lead you. I am sure you will always look upon this edition of "Focus" as a souvenir of the good old high school days.

Thelma Drodge

Members of the Staff

Valedictory Address

Gail Martin

Words alone cannot express how happy I am to be chosen as spokesman for this year's graduating class.

We, the Grade Eleven students, have been working hard since kindergarten to finish school. Now the time has finally come, and it is our duty to embark on a new journey of life.

During our school days we have made many friends from whom we find it very hard to depart. We must also remember and give thanks to the teachers and to our parents, who have helped and comforted us in times when we became disgusted and felt like giving up.

Now that we have left school, we must go our separate ways into the world and make a living for ourselves. Some of us will go on to University and others to Trade Schools. But, whatever we do, it will be determined by our backgrounds in school.

In conclusion, I would like, on behalf of the Grade Eleven class, to leave a few words with the undergraduates: don't be a drop-out. Set yourselves a goal and work hard to achieve it. Then you, too, will find success.

Farewell, and may God bless you all.

Gail Martin

School Nurse

Miss Georgina Vardy, R. N.
Clareville District

Nurse Vardy has been visiting our school every Wednesday for the past two years. She attends to defects in vision and hearing, and holds baby clinics as well. As it seems that most of our accidents happen on Wednesdays, Miss Vardy is of great help, and we are grateful for all she has done. We think she deserves a very honourable mention in our yearbook.

Janitor

Mr. Jacobs, or Hayward, as he is known, has been our janitor for the past two years. We think that anyone who has pushed brooms and mops for such a long time deserves a special place in our Yearbook.

PUPILS' 23rd PSALM

A monster is my teacher.
 I shall not pass.
 He maketh me face the blackboard;
 He destroyeth my love notes;
 He throweth my gum in the trash can;
 He maketh me quiet and taketh away my candy;
 He leadeth me to the Principal's Office for conduct's sake.
 Yea, though I walk through the halls of knowledge I fear great evil,
 For I have forgotten my homework.
 His face hardens before me;
 He maketh me write a thousand lines
 And filleth the blackboard with homework;
 My notebook runneth over.
 Surely mischief and misfortune shall follow me all the days of my life,
 And I shall dwell in this House of Knowledge forever.

TEEN COMMANDMENTS

1. Stop and think before you drink.
2. Don't let your parents down - they brought you up.
3. Be humble enough to obey. You will be giving orders yourself someday.
4. At the first moment, turn away from unclean thinking.
5. Don't show off driving. If you want to race, go to Indiannapolis.
6. Choose a date who would make a good mate.
7. Go to church faithfully. The Creator gives you the week; give Him back an hour.
8. Avoid following the crowd. Be an engine - not a caboose.
9. Choose your companions carefully; you are what they are.
10. Or even better... Keep the original Ten Commandments.

A MESSAGE TO
HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES OF '70

Newfoundland and the world have seen great changes since you started school. Our whole way of life, if we have kept pace with these changes, has altered.

But great challenges to adapt lie ahead!

The Universities of the world, and Memorial is no exception, play a leading role in preparing young men and women to meet their changing environment. To obtain degrees that will be meaningful in the 70's, students must absorb greater and more sophisticated knowledge.

That is why high school graduates planning to go to university need a stronger educational base than ever before. Some of you will be ready for the full first-year university programme. Others won't.

But those who would probably fail the regular first year can now come to Memorial with a better chance of success than ever before! We can say this, because Memorial now helps you secure the strong base you need in key subjects to move confidently into the regular university programme.

We call this new method of improving the educational base the Foundation Programme. It leaves open another door to higher education that otherwise might be barred.
