2. Overview of 2024 Activities

- July 1st – Memorial Day service held inside Lion's Club due to weather. We went outside for the wreath laying and continued service inside.
- July 15th - Headstone cleaning on the Point in Little Heart's Ease at Bethel United Cemetery was completed on July 15th. There was a large turnout and as requested much of the overgrowth was cleared to allow cleaning. It was noted on that day that cleaning should occur in Spring or Fall when it isn't as hot and not as many mosquitoes.
- August 18th - Claypitts Storyboard completed and unveiled August 18th. Special thanks to Chris Vardy and Raymond Benson for installing the storyboard, cleaning the cemetery and the trail. Chris and Mary hosted lunch following the service.
- October 21st – the gate posts were finally completed with engravings.
- November 8th – Max and Lester attended the Remembrance Day service at SWA Academy on behalf of SWAHS. A short presentation was made and well received. We have been asked to return next year.
- November 11th – Remembrance Day service held. More noted below. The storyboard will be installed on the fence once the weather cooperates.
- An application for funding of sod was submitted to Veteran's Affairs. It was declined but understood as we have been fortunate to receive funding to date. Della looked into cost of turf for the memorial site but at >$10K, it would not be a feasible option.
- It was noted that we need a new Union Jack flag following the most recent heavy winds we had in November.

4. Website Report – Elaine presented for Wanda

- Our website continues to slowly grow. When we started the website 10 years ago, there was a lot of information to add. Now, we don't receive a lot of new items, but we do appreciate any items that we do receive – everything from updates to family trees, photos, newspaper clippings and obituaries.
- We are always on the hunt for new items. If you have anything you would like to see added, just get in touch with Wanda. You might have some photos of people, communities, older homes that still or no longer exist, occupations such as fishing and logging, former post offices, former stores, schooners and other vessels, former teachers – and just about anything you can think of. We would love to receive these items.
- We also love to post stories about our communities, ancestors, and any aspect of life in the Southwest Arm. Maybe you would like to do a profile about one of your ancestors – tell us their special story.

5. Overview of Remembrance Day – Della

- There were approximately 200 people in attendance at service with various performers.
- Following wreath laying, the service moved inside. Lester gave a presentation, and the new storyboard was dedicated.
- Cold plates were served, and everything went well.
- One suggestion for next year is to try to serve quicker as there were some with dietary requirements to eat at a specific time. If we have more people to help serve, this could be accomplished.

6. Military Projects – Lester

- The RAF Project has been completed. The final report has been submitted to Veteran's Affairs. The storyboard unveiled on November 11th will be installed when the weather is better.
- The video of the Remembrance service is being completed and will be uploaded onto the website.
- Future projects include WWII Royal Navy (approx. 40 individuals) and Royal Artillery (approx. 20). Lester has the names, but the research must be completed.
- Lester was asked to participate in a podcast, and he contributed readings of 3 of his stories. Following this, he has been asked to participate in show on Rogers TV.
- Upcoming he will be visiting with Grade 9 students at SWA Academy to show them how to research historical military documents online.

7. Membership and Donations Update – Maria

- Lester suggested that we host a scanning event. Dale Jarvis of MUN has been to other areas and can bring equipment to assist in scanning and providing a digital archive of documents / photos. It would also then be part of the archives at MUN.
- Headstone cleaning to be completed at St. Joseph’s RC Cemetery in Gooseberry Cove in 2025.
- Island Cove Storyboard and Trail. Storyboard is being donated by Wanda Garrett and Family. Dedication and flower service at cemetery in Island Cove to coordinate with completion of trail.
- Interest in a storyboard to be completed in St. Jones Within. Ann Robbins has been the main contact. Plan is to have it ready for their summer event.
- Butter Cove storyboard has progressed well and is planned for unveiling at Butter Cove days. Flag masts will also be installed and memorial to Richard Spurrell will be relocated from current site to storyboard area.
- There has been some interest in a storyboard in Hatchet Cove. We can meet with the group and help them plan the content.
